EHS Tradition

Tradition was a special feeling among all the students at Edneyville! Everyone did his own thing with determination and outstanding pride.

Whether it was taking the time and effort to get the band ready to march or struggling to make a touchdown during a football game or even just studying until 2:00 in the morning to pass the English or chemistry test on the next day, we formed an undeniable bond that separated us from anyone else.

Each person felt the spirit within his/her own soul and knew that the tradition was true. We knew that EHS in a few years would be a memory, but this year the EHS tradition made the Jackets . . . Wild with Pride!

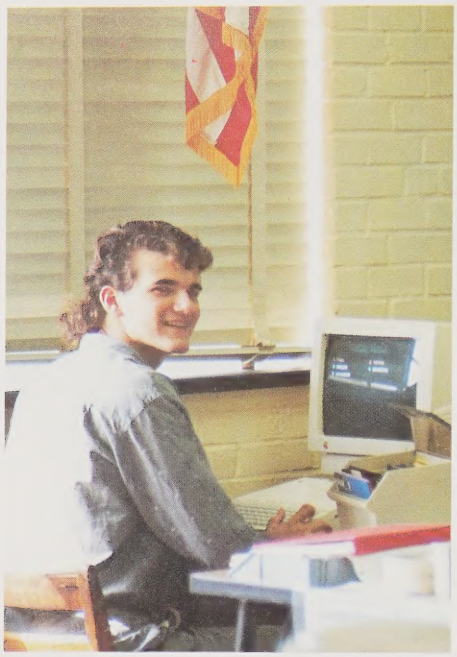
STUDENT LIFE

James Short and Jason Sweeney learn not to make fun of the coaches.

Roy Corn works hard after school on his Scarlet Letter paper.



Chris Duncan and David Griffin get the drums ready before a big game.

There is just enough time after school and before practice to drop your books in the car, change clothes, and run to the store.

AFTER HOURS

Do you ever go home? That was the question people asked the Edneyville students. The answer we replied was "Yes, after all sports, meetings, activities, tutoring, band, detention, and other things are finished!" That didn't leave much time at night, but that was the way of life at EHS. After school was out, almost everybody left to go to Russell's, the nearby snack and hangout place. We surrounded the fountain drink machine and rushed to get back to practice by 3:30. We had just enough time to pile in the locker rooms to get ready. From the "Go, Jackets, Win" of the cheerleaders, to the "Boom, Boom" of the band drums, to the shouts of "Feet to the ball" of the volleyball coach, sounds of EHS were heard throughout Edneyville even after 3:05! It probably did seem like we never went home to those driving by, but after all the hard work . . . and fun too, we were usually ready to go home.

Before school starts, Chris Long, Jon Lambert, Shannon Gilbert, and Jenni Lyda plan out the year with Mrs. Case for student council.

Summer Time

From June 2nd until August 18th, students vacationed their hearts out! Many water-skied at Lake Lure, some vacationed in Western North Carolina, and others traveled across the ocean. Pools were popular along with any other place with cool water because the weather was scorching hot. Several students attended school-oriented camps such as band camp, basketball camp, football camp, wrestling camp, and yearbook camp while others attended leadership conferences. No matter what was done, with whom, or for how long, the summer of '91 was a summer to remember.

Paul Roberts and Ralph chill out on Lake Lure.

Spirit WEEK

The week of October 7-11 was one of the wildest of this year at EHS. Homecoming captured everyone's attention and all thoughts were directed toward the grand finale, Friday night's homecoming game against Asheville School. Each day of the week brought a special event. On Monday, we sported the names of our favorite colleges on sweatshirts, T-shirts and jackets. On Tuesday, we switched genders for a day as boys dressed like girls and girls dressed like boys. Wednesday had us wearing our outfits inside out, and Thursday was "all in the family" as students dressed alike for Twin Day. Then there was Friday. The halls were alive with black and gold, and the game was the hottest topic of conversation. While the football players got their "heads in the game" and the homecoming court and escorts made last minute preparations for their half-time debut, everyone could hardly wait for the sun to go down. We laughed at the skits Friday morning, got more paint on ourselves than on the poster paper during mural painting Monday night, and yelled with the cheerleaders at the pep rally on Friday. The home stands were overflowing with Jacket pride as Asheville School felt the EHS sting. Our boys took a decisive victory and made the 1991 Homecoming an overwhelming success.

Prom

The prom brought mystery and elegance to the seniors and juniors of Edneyville on May 11, 1991, at the Asheville Civic Center Banquet Hall. The Juniors had spent much time getting ready for this special night planning and working up until that Saturday when they spent all morning decorating. It was all worth it though. The night started around 3:00 p.m. when the girls began getting dressed up and getting their hair done. The guys got ready and picked up the girls by 5:00 p.m. Their plans were delayed because of all the pictures their parents took. Then, off they went to a nice restaurant like Kyoto's, Poseidon, or Grove Park Inn. They finally arrived at the prom around 8:00. The night was filled with dancing, laughing, munching, romance, and just altogether excitement! They even saw Coach Cumbo and Mr. Burch jamming on the dance floor. The girls found their shoes were better under the tables than on their feet. This delightful evening was a special memory.

"Everybody dance now."

Beth Ann Laws, Travis Justice, Wendy Smith, and Brandy Welty arrive at the prom.

Mrs. Lyda, Mrs. Pittillo, and Mrs. Lemmons chat with each other. Mrs. Case watches someone smooching in the corner while Mrs.Cumbo dozes off.

CHANGES

The year 1991-92 brought new changes. Three new teachers transferred to EHS, Mr. Ledford, Mr. Lewis, and Mr. Haynes, and we brought back a past teacher, Mr. McKinnish. The new seventh graders loved the move from the elementary school to the high school. We welcomed Tiago, our foreign exchange student from Brazil.

New juice machines replaced soft drink machines. All students were required to pass a test over the school rules.

In the 1991-1992 school year we became aware of the need to recycle, reduce, and reuse. Teachers tried to use less paper. The student council delivered white paper to recyling bins, and Mr. Street organized the recyling of aluminum cans. This kept the campus clean and helped save the environment too.

EHS felt a great change with new seniors! Altogether, these changes aroused a new excitement and a new spirit that would make our year unique!

Car's

During the 11th and 12th grade most students enjoy the privilege of driving to school. Many experiences come with driving, such as paying for gas, tires, maintenance, insurance, and sometimes an accident or two. The thrills of driving and feeling of freedom usually outweigh the downfalls. There is nothing like hopping in your car, pressing the gas, and going down the road worry free.

Clubs & Classes

Marching Band

The EHS Yellowjacket Marching Band experienced a series of "firsts" this year. The band came under new direction this year with the arrival of Mr. Gerald Ledford. It was also the first year as drum major for sophomore Stacy Brackett. This year was the first year on the marching field for a great many of the band members, but the most rewarding "first" of all was the superior, or one, rating the band received at the Alcoa Marching Band Invitational in Alcoa, Tennessee. The marching Jackets put in many hours of concentration and hard work both after school and during band camp last August, and dedication was a must for any band member, but there was no doubt in anyone's mind that the work was well worth it.

Art Class

All art classes are centered around still life, landscape, and figure drawing, as well as painting, sculpture, two and three dimensional design, and printmaking. Seventh graders have art for twelve weeks while eighth graders take art for nine weeks. Art 1 is open to all high school students. Art 2 and Art 3 are advanced classes and require a portfolio for admission.

Mr. Lewis brings his skill to EHS.

Scott Cox and Quincy Hughey are busy creating their masterpieces.

Eric Duncan cleans up his paint brushes.

Charlie Dalton and Jerri Lee Burke look as if they enjoy art.

Chorus

The Chorus is a part of the Edneyville High School music branch along with the Marching Band and the Jazz Band. EHS students enjoy the programs put on by the music department before the holidays. Our new band director is Mr. Jerry Ledford who comes to us from East Henderson High School. Anyone in grades ninth through twelfth can take chorus for a credit.

Sharon Hill is one of Mr. Ledford's most talented chorus students.

Satellite Courses

The TI-IN Satellite offers courses that are not usually offered at EHS. Small schools all over the country participate in the TI-IN Network. Our students are able to call their satellite teachers over a special telephone system,and they mail their tests to their teachers. This year EHS students chose to take German I and French I. Mrs. Lemmons oversees the satellite courses.

Roger Wilkerson wanted to take German because he was born in Germany.

Tiago

Tiago Fernandez spent a memorable five months at Edneyville as a foreign exchange student from Salvador, Brazil.

Tiago enjoyed being on the football and wrestling teams as well as participating in the student council and other clubs. He also perfected our slang word "not" and for the first time in his life actually saw snow. Although Tiago was only here a short time, he made many friends because of his great sense of humor and wonderful personality. We have many great memories of Tiago here at Edneyville, and we want him to know he will never be forgotten.

Tiago Fernandez enjoys our American football.

ESL

As a teacher of English as a second language, Yolanda Tierson spends time at Edneyville and other county schools assisting the classroom teachers and the Spanish-speaking students. Some students are not able to read or speak English when they enter school at EHS. With Mrs. Tierson's help, the Spanish-speaking students are able to adjust quickly to taking classes in English.

Student Council

The EHS Student Council started off the year with Homecoming Week. This was the highlight of the year with a whole week of activities.

Members are voted into the student council by the student body through homerooms or clubs. Students who say they are willing to work for student council can also be selected for membership as merit members. The officers are Shannon Gilbert, president; Chris Long, first vice president; Travis Oates, second vice-president; Jon Lambert, secretary; Jenni Lyda, treasurer.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society was created o recognize outstanding students and pro- hote their continued academic success. To emain in the NHS, one must maintain a igh grade point average, record eight serv- ce hours in a semester, and attend seventy-five percent of the meetings.

The prospect of eight service hours, which consists of helping teachers, doing community service, etc., is challenging for those who participate in after school activities like sports, but because of the integrity and dedication found in most NHS members, the eight hours of service are usually fulfilled.

NHS members meet before lunch.

Spanish Club

Spanish Club seeks to offer out-of-class speaking and cultural experiences to students of first, second, and third year Spanish. The club celebrated Columbus Day (El Dia de la Raza) by eating out at El Chapala, a new Mexican restaurant in Hendersonville. Christmas was celebrated by a pinata party at which Christmas songs were sung in Spanish. The Spanish Club honored Edneyville's Spanish-speaking students with a Christmas tea and presents.

FCA

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is an organization made up of students that take a stand to profess the Christian faith throughout the school and community. They gather together to fellowship with and to encourage one another. They also work to help others by giving aid to needy families and providing material for others to learn about Christ by sending many Bibles to people in Russia. The club is sponsered by Jeff Roper with help from Mr. Ledford and Mrs. Barnwell.

FHA

FHA is a co-curricular organization whose focus is service to the community, to the school, and to the individual. Leadership and interpersonal skills are emphasized through our chapter meetings, service projects, and participation and competitive proficiency events.

FHA's year is highlited by our Christmas service project. We "adopt" a needy family with children and play "Santa" for the children. In the spring, FHA members compete in district VIII (Western N.C.) for trophies in Home Economics related areas.

President Cindy Corn leads an FHA meeting while Cindy Toms observes. Most meetings were held during lunch so that all members could attend.

FBLA

Future Business Leaders of America is an educational student organization that plays a vital role in a high school's educational program. FBLA members are planning for careers in the business world. Members are provided the opportunity to develop strong, aggressive leadership qualities and civic responsibilities through the activites and projects of their FBLA chapter. Through practical experience and competition on a local, state, and national level, the students in FBLA learn by doing. Pat Sams, the sponsor, has lead the club to many successful competions.

Key Club

The Key Club has been a very active group this year. Numerous public service activities have developed leadership and pride among this small group of young men. Projects included raising funds for the Hunnicutt family, winterizing a home for a disabled neighbor, and providing help to the Eliada Home. To raise money the club cut and sold firewood. Leadership from three seniors, Travis Nix, Brett King, and Gary Cox, has turned the Key Club into an important part of the school and the community.

Jr. High Student Council

The Edneyville Junior High Student Council has five eighth grade members and three seventh grade members, who are elected at large by their respective classes. The club recycles paper and cans in the junior high buildings. It sponsored a Halloween dance for seventh, eighth, and ninth graders. The club provides a pencil machine in the hall. Members have secret pals that they give gifts to on special occasions. Mrs. Carter sponsors the club. Members meet once a week to discuss projects and to discuss any problems or ideas brought to them by the students.

Football

Jackets Complete Season with Pride

The 1991 football season was one of the best that Edneyville High has seen in many years. The team was one that the school could truly be proud to have, and the season was one that players and fans will not soon forget.

Coach Mac Cumbo led the team to a 4-6 record, the best record the Yellowjackets have had in several years. Total points scored as well as number of games won doubled this year.

Although the goal of going to the state playoffs was not reached, conference play was not a total loss as the Jackets posted a 28-14 vectory over the conference champion Bearcats of Hendersonville. This was a real accomplishment since the team had not defeated Hendersonville in 23 seasons. This year's team should be known as the one that gave the school hope and confidence that it could beat any team it played. This year's team finally put pride back into Jacket football.

Varsity Cheerleading

Sideline Support

Anjie Payne looks over the basketball fans.

When a girl achieves a position on the cheerleading squad, she commits herself to the longest athletic season of the year, lasting eleven months. After tryouts in April, they are required to attend four days of camp.

They practice regularly in the summer, and they participate in the Apple Festival Parade. And when school starts, they practice four days a week.

The squad cheers through the football season and continues to the end of the basketball season, but even then the sprirt never stops. The EHS cheerleaders also take their Jacket Pride to competition in February.

Cheerleading requires a great deal of dedication and hard work, not to mention immense pride in being a Jacket. Being a member of such a close knit group provides the setting for the establishment of strong relationships and fond memories. For seniors especially, these friendships and memories are guaranteed to last.

Cheerleading has been a great experience for me. Our whole squad was like a family and that was great.—Lynn Williams

No Lucky Breaks

Working together and having great team spirit led the volleyball team to a learning season. Even though more games were lost than won the team felt the experience would make for a better team next year, and the returning players are looking forward to a stronger season next year.

When asked why she enjoys volleyball, Jenni Lyda said, "It makes me keep in shape for basketball, and it is not like any other sport I play."

Soccer

Second Season

Soccer is still a relatively new sport at Edneyville High School, and the team has had to overcome many difficulties. However, to the team, just the chance to play soccer against real competition has made it worthwhile. The team was led by Adam Hill, coached by Brian Cartee and David Johnson. Danen Johnson says, "We are inexperienced, but we will have a good team in a few years.

Danen Johnson gives the ball a good swift kick.

Varsity Basketball

Young Jacket Team

When the basketball season rolled around this year at Edneyville High School, Coach Gary Pittillo knew he had his work cut out for him. Travis Oates, Jeff Lyda, Jason Dalton, and Chris "Crash" Long were the only players that had previously played on the varsity team. Despite the youth of this year's varsity boys' basketball team, improvement over previous years was evident. Even though the team dropped a few close games early in the year, the win-loss record did not reflect the hustle, effort, and competitiveness of the team. The hard work and dedication of the coach and the guys made the season worthwhile.

"We had a rough season this year due to inexperienced players, but hopefully next year we will have a better season."—J. Meliski.

"This team was definitely an experience and fun to be on. I wish the best to next year's team."—Travis Oates.

Lady Jackets

This year's team was out to duplicate last year's success. They had a 8-1 record by Christmas. Not since 1984 has the Lady Jacket team had this much power. Although the team was small, it had the ability and quickness to move the ball down the court. Not having the experience as in the past years, the Edneyville Lady Jackets knew that they had to pull together [illegible] to surprise their opponents. The team [illegible] worked hard to play together, and it [illegible] go far.

Although the team is losing one valuable senior, those who will be returning look forward to success next year.

JV Basketball

Teamwork Wins Games

With a talented team of freshman and returning sophomores, this year's JV boys' team excelled over the competition. With decisive victories over many of the opponents, the JV's should take the conference title this year, following in the footsteps of last year's conference runner-up team.

With only seven players, this year's JV girls' team has chalked up a remarkable record. Coached by Debbie Rhymer the girls have proven a competitive match for larger and more powerful teams.

Junior High Basketball

Exciting Moments

Basketball is the most competitive sport played on the junior high level. The junior high girls pulled together to have a victorious season. Lead by Coach Pat Elkins, they worked as a team and won by wide margins. This year's boys' team was coached by Edwin Nix. The boys gained valuable experience that will help them become better ball players.

Wrestling

No Pain, No Gain

It takes more to be a wrestler than most people have to give. It takes determination, motivation, and a hunger for victory. A wrestler must endure long grueling hours of practice and enforced starvation in order to lose weight. A wrestler must learn to take responsibility for his actions; a loss is no ones fault but his own. The wrestler must also learn to never give up. He cannot give up during practice, and he learns never to give up in a match. Our wrestling team has what it takes. Going into each match losing 24 points in forfeits, they never gave up. Our wrestlers have determination, motivation and a hunger for victory; all of which sets them apart from everyone else and makes each of them something special, a wrestler.

T.J. Russell is about to get an escape.

Cross-Country and Track

The warm spring weather brought several students out to put their bodies through a grueling test of abilities. Although the team did not perform to the level that they hoped, the year was still a success because the athletes were able to improve individual skills. Some members of the varsity track team, coached by Jeff Roper, even competed in the June regional meets.

The 1991 JV track teams placed a consistent first, second, and third in all events in WNC competion. The teams were coached by athletic director Frank Owenby and by Becky Carter.

Golf

In the Swing

Edneyville's golf team worked hard and drove long; though they were young and inexperienced, they showed much improvement and love in their sport. This year's team finished third in the conference. Coach Mike Pryor helped the '91 team improve basic skills and learn to love the sport.

Tennis

Raising a Racket

The spring 1991 tennis team was anything but boring. There was always something or someone to laugh at. The team had so much fun with the coach's tours through town to get to Jackson Park and with Tony Bennett's constantly throwing his racket into the air. The practices were very intense, and the team members worked hard to improve their skills and concentration. The players claimed they could not have gotten through the practices without Coach Terry Dryman's funny remarks.

Softball

The 1990-91 softball season was not a winning season but a devoted one. Game after game the girls tried their hearts out.
Despite the girls overall record, 6-15, they played with great determination. Junior Lynn Williams helped the team immensely with her excellent pitches.
Junior Lisa McLaughlin, an outstanding outfielder, played well both offense and defense. She and Brooke Calton helped win several softball games with their home runs. Leaving this year behind, the Lady Jackets hope for a better season next year. They have most of their team returning from last year and feel that next year's season will be a promising one.

People

WE'RE SENIORS DEAL WITH IT!

Brian Merrell: "I want to stay here because they feed me and keep me warm and I don't have to work. It's kind of like a shelter for adolescents."
Beau Freeman: "I've waited 14 years to get here and now I'm going to part with you, the students of Edneyville. Good luck and maybe I'll see you out there somewhere sometime.
Joel Metcalf: "It's been fun and it's been real but it hasn't been real fun.
Bobbie Leonard: "It's good to finally be a senior, Thank Goodness I'm free!!!"
Michelle Hyder: "I think your senior year is one of the most important years of your life. I've had some memorable times here at EHS, of course not all of them were good but I guess that's life. I'll miss my friends at Edneyville but life must go on."

Travis Oates and Jon Lambert: "These years here at Edneyville have been the greatest years of our lives so far. But life doesn't stop the day after graduation. We've made alot of friends and memories here at Edneyville which we will cherish in our hearts for the rest of our lives. Edneyville will be gone soon, but it is our job and your job to keep the flame alive. As we and you in your turn go out into the wide open future it is our and your job to keep the spirit of Edneyville alive locked into the memories of your heart.

Leadership

Class Officers

The senior officers showed excellent leadership qualities this year. This group of students were leaders in school spirit and academics while participating in sports and clubs. These people set a good example for the other seniors and for the rest of the school. The juniors are going to have a difficult time trying to fill their shoes next year.

Senior Memories

Weren't We Cute!

The Class of 1992 is full of memories. They have made us the really cool seniors we are today (and ever, amen)! We remember birthday parties, visits to Santa Claus, scout meetings, elementary days, and junior high homecoming. Together we have had a wonderful time. The memories we have now will be part of us forever.

JUNIORS

Busy Year

Busy" can hardly describe junior year. The classes become even more challenging. Juniors have to learn how to balance a job, homework, and extracurricular activities. Finding the time to do everything is difficult. Teachers, Mom and Dad, and the guidance counselor are talking about grades, the SAT, and college applications. But the most important thing on every junior's mind is becoming a senior.

Junior class officers: Kim Button, Treasurer; Stephen McGraw, Secretary; Charlene Dalton, Vice President; David Pressley, President.

Rene Jakubowski and Keri Hill think eating candy is much better than selling it.

Chris Brevard does not know whether he drives a car or a truck so he calls it a cruck.

A Successsful School Takes Time and Teamwork

Our school is extremely luckly to have a friendly, helpful, and effective administration. Lead by our principal Mr. Charles Thomas, the administration works together to ensure that our school runs smoothly. Mr. Thomas's strong leadership gave faculty, students, and the community a strong sense of direction.

. Assistant principal Richard Barnwell, a key figure on campus, works hard throughout the year. His major jobs include helping with curricular activities, assisting with discipline, organizing school buses, lockers and books, and putting school records in the computer.

Elaine Hull and Judy Merrell are a great help to the everyday life here at Edneyville. Mrs. Merrell, our secretary, does almost everything from answering the telephone, which may ring over 100 times a day, to taking care of attendance and writing tardy passes. Mrs. Hull, our accountant, pays our monthly bills and takes care of both the payroll and all class, club, and athletic accounts. Our school could not function without Mrs. Merrell and Mrs Hull.

Our guidance counselor assists students with their plans for the future. Mrs. Pat Pierce helps students make college and career choices and fill out forms required by colleges and businesses. She is charge of our testing programs, and she still finds time to help students with their problems.

Mrs. Merrell takes a minute to pose for a picture before returning to work.

Mrs. Hull has transferred all of the financial records to her computer.

It's rare that you'll catch Mr. Thomas and Mr. Barnwell together during school hours. Both are very busy working closely with faculty, students, and parents in dealing with discipline, curriculum, and other aspects of school life.

Every morning Mr.Thomas takes time to talk with students. Here he greets Michelle McGlasson and Leslie Kittridge.

A smiling Mrs. Pierce is in her office waiting for her next appointment with a student needing help with scholarship applications.

Mr. Barnwell takes care of school business on the telephone.

Teacher of the Year

Dedication

Teacher of the Year is one of the highest honors a teacher can be given. Mrs. Bristow, this year's recipient of the award, is a dedicated math teacher who spends many extra hours working with her students before school and at lunch.

Working with Students

Math Can Be a Problem

Teachers often spend their lunch time helping students who are willing to work a little harder to understand their lessons. We are indeed fortunate to have such dedicated teachers.

Moment by Moment

Moment by Moment , day by day,
We stood by each other
Every step of the way.

We've made long-lasting friendships
That will never be forgotten
And some have made promises
That cannot be broken.

When we graduate our relationships
Will grow because we will always have the Memories and moments that we have bestowed.

anonymous

Thank you for Being a Friend

I've often heard it said, if one true friend you find
Then you're a lucky person, and I'm so glad you're mine.

I hope our friendship grows and will never ever end
Because it is so nice,
to have you for a friend.

Thank you for your kindness,
it means so much to me
Love, trust and kindness, what more could friendship be.

I appreciate our closeness and I hope it never ends.
I love you very much and
Thanks for being a Friend.

Running Still

Time.
Work to do.
Running-running-running
No time, no time.
If time flies when you're having fun,
It goes at Mach 17 when you're working.
Running-running-running
Stop. Think.
Running-running-running
No! Time wasted.
Running-running-running.
Time up.

Time.
Time to kill.
Crawling... Crawling...
Half hour to go, seems like weeks.
Nothing to do that I can think of.
Nothing to think of that I can do.
Crawling... Crawling...
Nothing that I can amuse myself with.
Crawling... Crawling...
No books to read, no puzzles to do.
Crawling... Crawling...
Only twenty-nine minutes to go.

Eddie Osterman

For two years now I've been a part of the class of '92
And these two years has brought me closer to everyone of you.
Our class is like a family
and that I truly love,
Things are usually peaceful,
and quiet like a dove,
Everyone is friendly
Always tries to please,
Just knowing I can call on anyone
Puts my mind at ease.
Thank you for the time you've gave,
and for taking me in and thank you for letting me be able to call you all my friend.
Edneyville is special,
and always will be too,
But no one will ever be as special as the class of 1992.
So keep the tradition strong,
and always remember
This is the best class
and the best school ever.
I now say goodbye
to the class of 92
But I will never forget even one of you.

Lynn Williams

As we the seniors of Edneyville High,
Turn to you with farewells and good-byes,
We remember all the laughter and fun times we had,
All the projects and tests which made us so sad,

But now as we leave with bright futures ahead,
We ask if we should go afar or remain close to home instead.
It's hard to decide with family and friends here,
But we hope we meet new ones who could also be so dear.

Hope

As we come to an end
We come to a beginning
A beginning of life and Making dreams and asperations come true.
We do not know what lies ahead
But we hope we can make it through.
We hope we choose the right path at the crossroads, and we hope the success we dream of will become a reality. Hope is all we have but hope is what will lead us on to accomplish the dreams
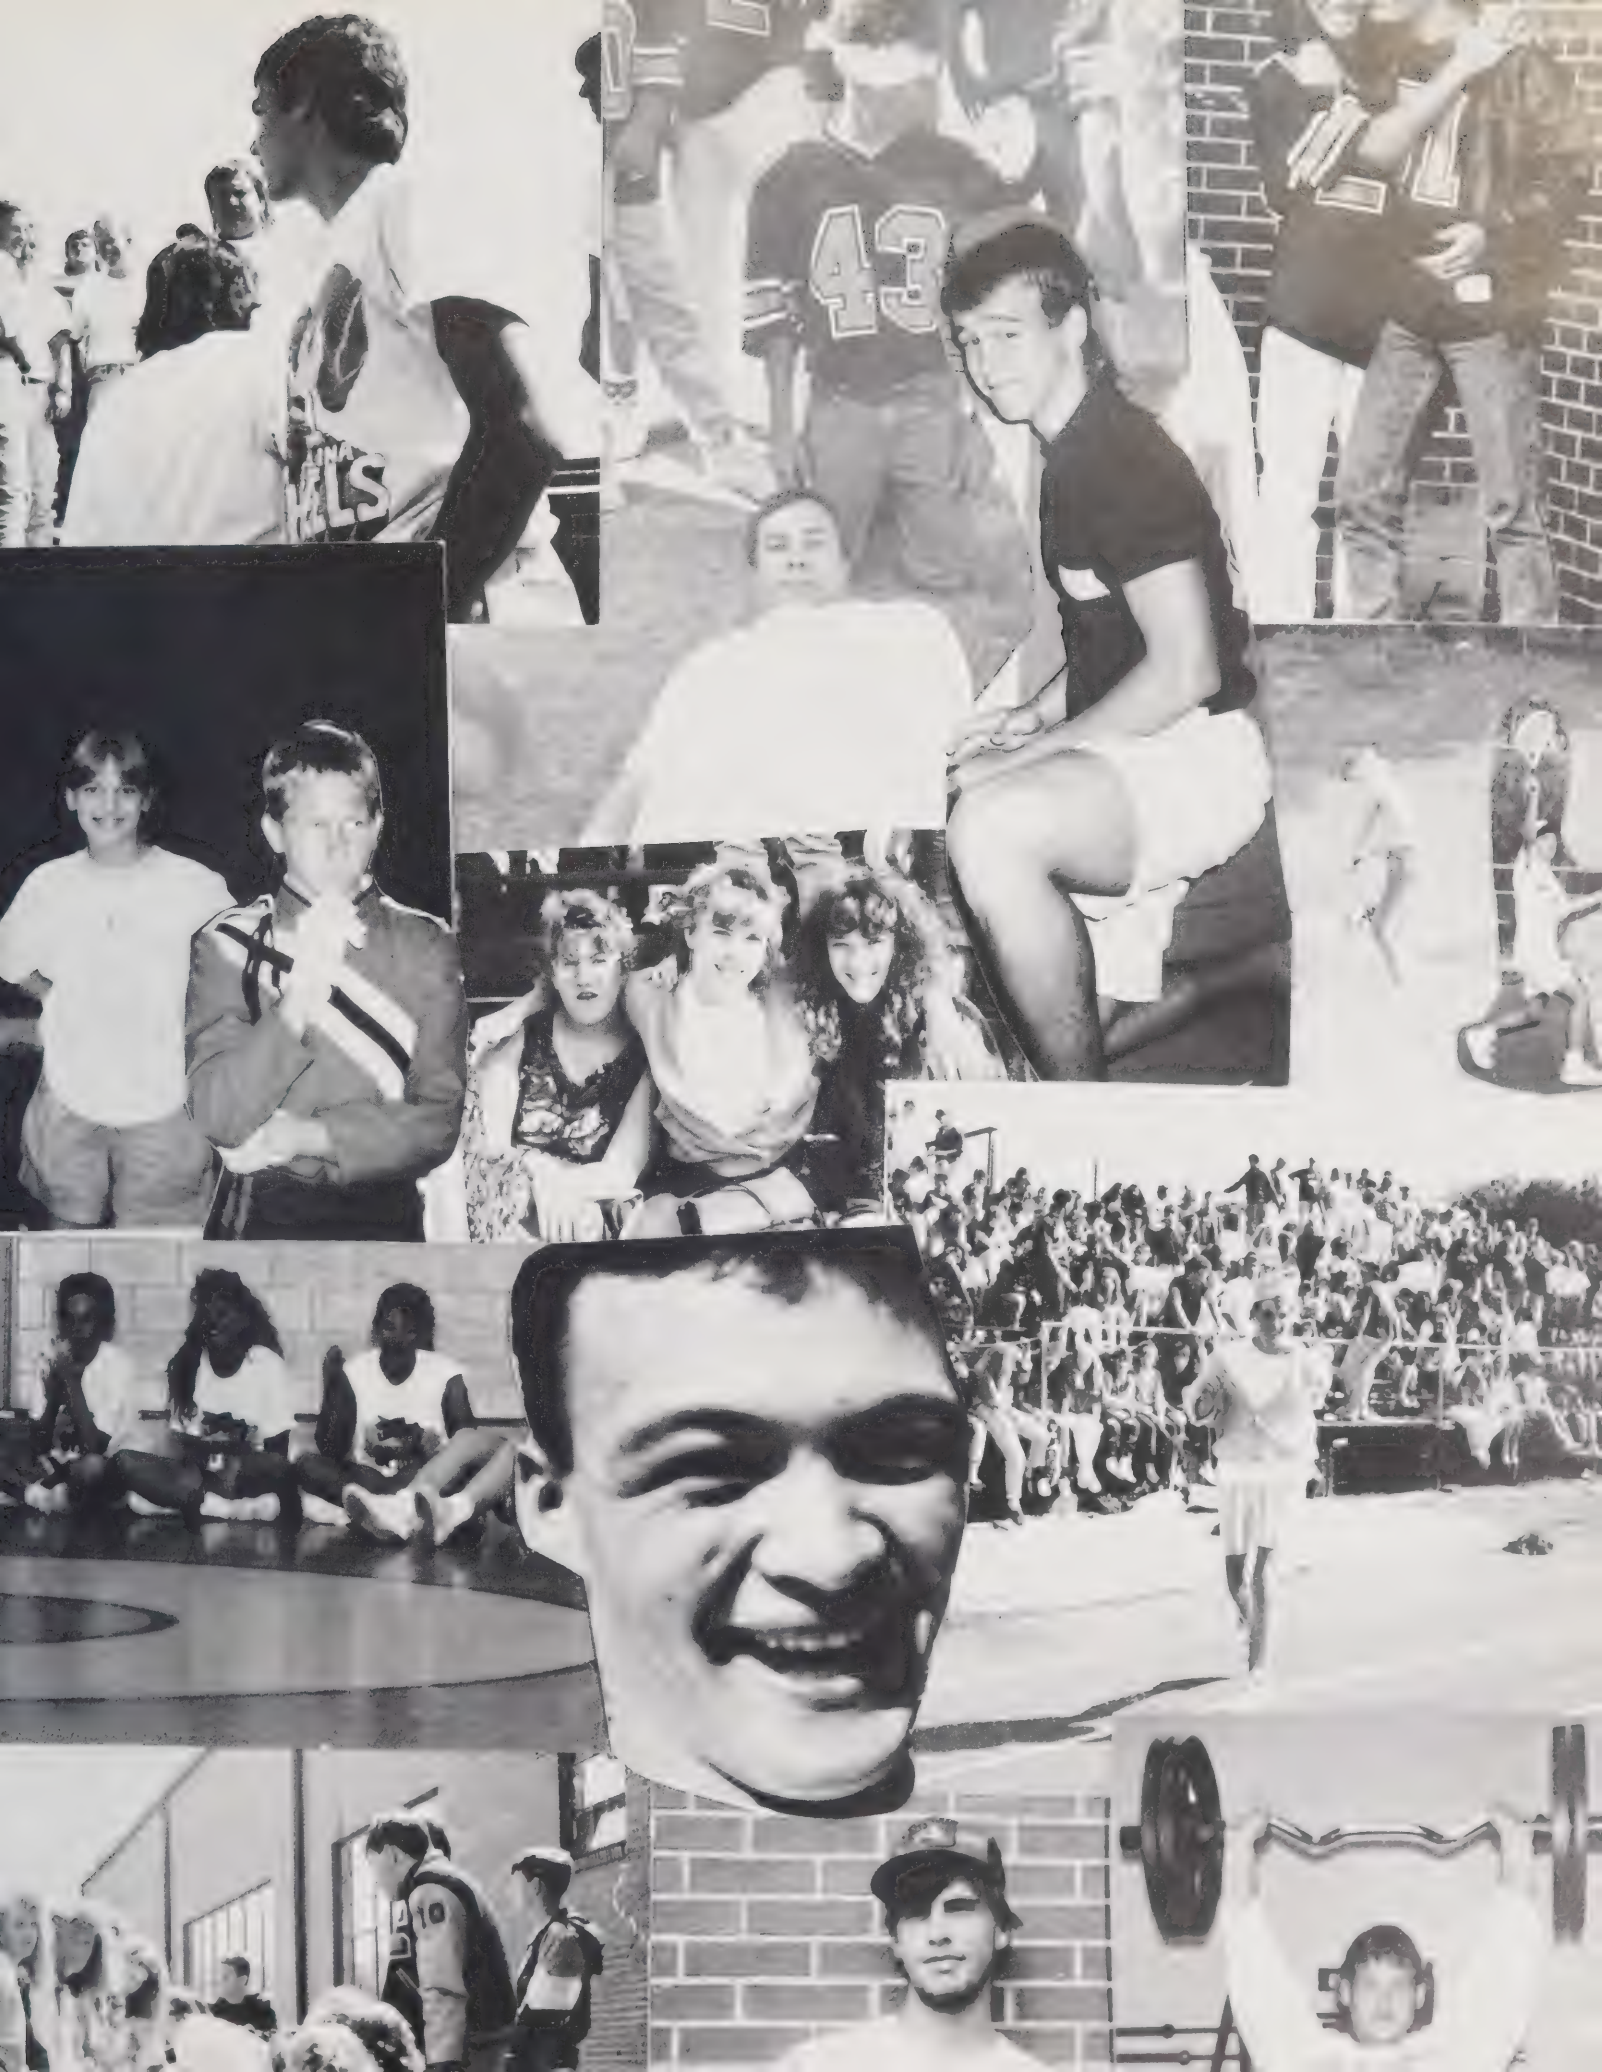
we share and in the end make them come true.

still

Stillnes falls. The world turns gray.
I turn and readjust my position in the old tassled hummock.
stare ahead, see the sunless sky
Let my imagination wander, I come across many secrets
Finding patterns in the autumn leaves - A man - A horse
Pitter - patter - pitter - patter - pitter - patter
Cool rain spleshes my face.
I reach for my book... burrowing deep. I lose all else.
CRASH! BOOM! Startled!
I drop my book.
I relax and sleep without a dream
Still. Gray. Nothing exists.

Eddie Osterman



Yearbook

Sweating Deadlines

The Whispering Pines staff is a group of ambitious juniors and seniors whose main goal is to produce a yearbook that the student body will cherish for years to come. Putting together a yearbook requires endless hours of taking pictures, cropping photos, drawing layouts, gathering information, and writing captions and stories. This years's staff met on weekends and teacher work days in an effort to make the 1992 Whispering Pines the best ever.

Kim laughs at one of her own jokes as she writes a story for the annual.

Jennifer Hyder rearanges her pictures.

J. Meliski and David Pressley share a headset while designing layouts.

Farewell

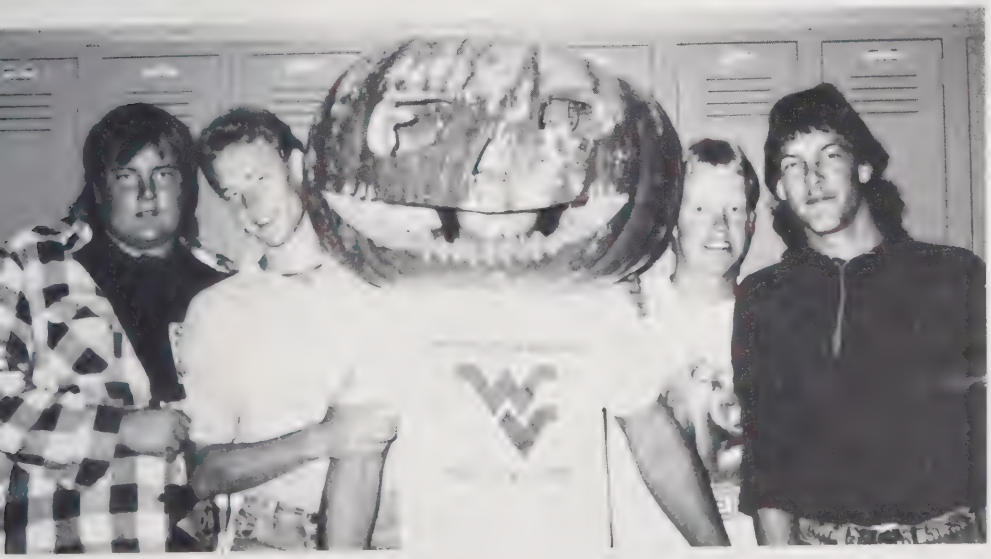
We're Out of Here!

Jeff Lyda and Scotty Sargent are anticipating graduation.

Adios, Bon Voyage, See 'Ya, Arribiderci, Later Alligator, or however you say it, We're Outta, Here! We've grown up together over the past 13 years here at Edneyville. Through those years we've grown closer and made friends with some of the most unlikely people. After all those years of watching other classes paint the rock, skip on Senior Skip Day, leave for lunch early, and sit in the front of the auditorium; we finally got to do those things this year. We are finally at the threshold of adulthood and freedom. Like I said, We're Outta Here!

Edmond DeRidder cranks "The Pickle" one of the last times as an Edneyville Senior.

Brian Merrell discoveres his artistic talent during his Edneyville life.



The Great Pumpkin (Ragan Thompson) visits Gary Cox, Jeff Lyda, Travis Nix, and Kevin Albertson. The masonry class can also be artistic.

The 1992 Whispering Pines was produced by the yearbook class of Edneyville High School, Edneyville, North Carolina. The 1992 edition was printed by Herff Jones Yearbook Company in Montgomery, Alabama using off set lithography. Press run was 375 copies with a 8 1/2 x 11 trim size. Paper stock for pages 81 - 96 is a 100 lb. high gloss stock. The remaining pages were printed on an 80 lb. Bordeaux Special gloss paper stock. Color separations were made by Herff Jones. A variety of headline styles and point sizes were used. Body copy and captions were set Times Roman type 10 pt. and 8 pt.

The cover is a full color design created by a Herff Jones artist with the help of the Whispering Pines staff. Covers were laminated and a 120 point cover board was used.
